2017 Films

	Film Name	TRT	Genre	Synopsis
1	A Ghost in the Making: Searching for the Rusty-patched Bumble Bee	19	Wildlife	Everyone has heard about bee declines, but with so much attention focused on domesticated honeybees, someone has to speak up for the 4,000 species of native bees in North America. Natural history photographer Clay Bolt is on a multi-year quest to tell the stories of our native bees, and one elusive species the Rusty-patched Bumble Bee has become his white whale.
2	A Walk in the Park	10	Adventure With A Purpose	Follow Kelly Halpin on the type of 'Picnic' that only a Jackson Hole resident can concoct. A human-powered natural obstacle course, The Picnic route includes 42 miles of biking, 2.6 miles of swimming, and 6,000 feet of elevation gain while hiking.
3	Ace and the Desert Dog	9	Adventure with A Purpose	For his 60th birthday, adventure photographer Ace Kvale and his dog, Genghis Khan, set out for a 60-day backpacking trip in Utahs canyon country. The pair tells the story of their trek, friendship, and Genghis records it on his Desert Dawg Adventure Blawg.
4	Avanyu	8	Indigenous Perspectives - Water/River	The Wild & Scenic Rio Grande River is the lifeblood of New Mexico. But for Tesuque Pueblo member Louie Hena and his family, the river is more than an office, more than a provider, it is home. In celebration of the 50th Anniversary of the Wild & Scenic Rivers Act, happening in 2018, Louie urges us all to protect more wild rivers.
5	Canyon Song	14	Indigenous Perspectives	A Navajo family balances modern life with the traditional Navajo Way, teaching their children their language, culture, and ceremony within the sacred walls of Canyon de Chelly National Monument. This is the second film in the National Park Experience film series.
6	China: A Skier's Journey	16	Adventure With A Purpose	Skiing as sport is in its infancy in China, a phenomenon of the country exploding middle class. As a means of survival, however, it is thousands of years old, a stone age hunter-gatherer technology born in the Altai mountains where China, Mongolia, Kazakhstan and Siberia merge. On a vast trajectory that spans 11,000 km of Northern China, Chad Sayers and Forrest Coots touch down into the rich past and dizzying future of these two respective Chinese ski cultures. As one rapidly expands, they find the other is at risk of disappearing.
7	Climbing Kilimanjaro   A 12-Year-Old's Passion Project	7	Adventure With A Purpose	Lilliana Libeck set a goal to reach all seven continents by 12 years old. With hard work, focus on school, and commitment, it was within reach. She heads to Africa to climb Kilimanjaro and finally complete this goal by reaching her seventh continent. She had no idea that this would lead her to focus on helping the planet and people, changing her life forever. We need to be the change we want to see; In a world where we can be and do anything, be kind and do good. Lilliana Libeck
8	Coral Reef Rescue	16	Ocean Conservation - Wildlife	An upbeat look at a downbeat topic, coral reefs are home to 25% of all marine species and protect the coastlines of more than 100 countries and provide 500 million people with jobs. They are also taking a huge hit from climate change, ocean acidification, and other pressures. The Mote Tropical Research Lab and the Coral Restoration Foundation ground breaking work with accelerating coral growth in the lab, creating nurseries in the ocean, and replanting back to the reefs is nothing less than fantastic. Their efforts creates hope for the future of sustainable coral reefs around the globe.
9	Crossing Home: A Skier's Journey	22	Adventure With A Purpose	Any weary traveler is faced with a road that ultimately winds to an end. They must return home. In the series finale, after excursions through ski cultures across the globe, Chad Sayers and Forrest Coots return to the beginning of their journey, British Columbia. Embarking on a 3 week expedition, they boat, bushwack, ski, and packraft across the spine of the Coast mountains. From interior plateau, they ascend the rippling rivers of ice over the Homathko Icefield, and reach the lush, carpeted coastal inlets of the Pacific coast. What is the meaning of home? A cast of characters help them understand what that term truly means.

10	Devotion: Libby Peter	5	Adventure With A Purpose - Women's Perspective	Libby Peter is one of the UKs most respected rock climbers, with years of experience in expeditions, instructing, coaching and guiding around the world. Throughout her astounding career Libby has been consistently committed to fulfilling her personal and professional objectives while raising her daughters Ruby and Zoe in the climbing hub of North Wales, UK. Libby reflects on how quite unintentionally climbing has shaped her life.
11	Disobedience	41	Activism - Energy/Resources/Climate	This is a David vs Goliath tales of front line leaders around the globe risking life and limb in the fight for a livable future for us all. Interwoven with this riveting footage are the most renowned voices in the global conversation on movements and justice for a statement on climate action that is passionate, personal, and powerful.
12	Douglas Tompkins: A Wild Legacy	16	Land Preservation	Douglas Tompkins was a world-renowned adventurer, entrepreneur, and conservationist. The founder of The North Face and cofounder of Esprit, Doug spent the first half of his life building successful global brands, while simultaneously adventuring around the world, completing first descents of the worlds toughest rivers. In 1968 Doug embarked on a trip to Chile, driving with friends from California to the tip of Patagonia. In the early 1990s, Doug sold his part of Esprit and turned his entrepreneurial energies to land and wildlife conservation projects in South America, working alongside his wife, Kristine McDivitt Tompkins, the former CEO of Patagonia, Inc. Over the last 25 years, Tompkins-initiated efforts have helped secure 4.75 million acres in new protected areas in Chile and Argentina including five new national parks. Tragically killed in a kayaking accident on December 8th, 2015, A Wild Legacy tells the story of Dougs incredible life, his lasting impact on the wild landscapes of Patagonia, and Kris and the Tompkins Conservation teams efforts to continue his audacious mission.
13	Dream Day	10	Adventure With A Purpose	What would it feel like to begin your day in fresh powder and end it in the briny Pacific on the perfect sunset wave? It would probably feel like a dream. Four athletes, Jeremy Jones, Hilaree O'Neil, Matt Hunter and Greg Long, set out to see if they could make that dream a reality starting out in the Sierra backcountry then rock climbing, cruising down Mt. Tam on mountain bikes, and capping it off with a surf at Stinson Beach. Amazing adventures are possible when you get outside and dream big.
14	Eating for Change	11	Food - Health	Sierra Harvest educates, inspires and connects families to fresh, local seasonal foods through farm to school education, training the next generation of farmers and supporting low income families in growing food at home. Their programs reach 96% of the K-8 students in Western Nevada County, CA. Prepare to get inspired by this regional model of food systems change.
15	Elk River	28	Wildlife	Scientist Arthur Middleton, photographer Joe Riis, artist James Prosek and filmmaker Jenny Nichols join forces in this documentary that captures the migration of elk in the Yellowstone area through a multidisciplinary lens. For many of the elk herds that summer in Yellowstone National Park, home is outside the protected park boundaries the rest of the year, as far as 70 miles away. Mirroring a similar expedition undertaken in 1871 that fused science and the arts, this modern band of explorers join their ungulate counterparts on a trek from Wyoming's rangeland through snowy mountain passes and treacherous river crossings to the rugged beauty of Yellowstone's high-alpine meadows. Along the way, they meet backcountry guides and cattle ranchers whose lives are intricately tied with the fate of the elk and other migratory species that call the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem home.
16	Fair Trade: The First Step	13	Resources/Energy/Climate	How is your clothing made? Patagonias new short film investigates why choosing Fair Trade Certified clothing is an important first step toward changing the garment industry.
17	Far Afield: A Conservation Love Story	35	Land Preservation - Wildlife	Bert Raynes, a boy from the mean streets of New Jersey, discovers the two great loves of his life: nature and Meg, his wife and muse. Drawn to the natural beauty of Jackson Hole, Wyoming, Meg and Bert foster a community of wildlife lovers, motivating them to become a force for nature as citizen scientists.
18	Forget Shorter Showers	12	Activism - Energy/Resources/Climate	Would any sane person think dumpster diving would have stopped Hitler, or that composting would have ended slavery or brought about the eight-hour workday; or that chopping wood and carrying water would have gotten people out of Tsarist prisons; or that dancing around a fire would have helped put in place the Voting Rights Act of 1957 or the Civil Rights Act of 1964? Then why now, with all the world at stake, do so many people retreat into these entirely personal solutions.
19	Great Lakes, Bad Lines	28	Adventure With A Purpose - Water Conservation	Two Michigan-born adventurers journey fossil-free for 500 miles across Michigans Upper Peninsula along the route of Enbridge Oils Line 5, a 63-year-old pipeline that threatens our inland waters and Great Lakes. Through the lens of adventure, personal stories, and natural beauty, this film highlights the ecosystems and livelihoods that are at risk and inspires all to take action within their own lives.

20	Growing Change	4	Health	Jim Cochran arrived at work before dawn. He walked out into the strawberry fields. As the sun rose and light hit the field, he began to smell chemicals. His eyes watered. His head spun. He started to shake. He had just walked into a field that had been sprayed with pesticides. From this experience, Jim Cochran helped invent the organic strawberry industry. After pioneering and profiting from a healthier crop, he turned his attention to the health of his workers.
21	Growing Resistance: Drought, Oil &amp; Climate Change in California	28	Health - Social Justice - Water/Rivers	These are stories of communities on the frontlines who are rising up against not only the immediate health impacts of the oil and gas industry, but against the growing climate impacts that are disproportionately impacting some of the most vulnerable in California.
22	Guided	14	Back to Nature	Meet Ray Reitze, a Maine wilderness guide and gentle spirit who shares his philosophy of how to live in harmony with the outdoors to the next generation of guides all the while grappling with his own mortality as he transitions from the physical world of guiding to a more spiritual understanding of nature and our ephemeral place within it.
23	Iran: A Skier's Journey	12	Adventure With A Purpose	Cautioned not to travel to Iran, Chad Sayers and Forrest Coots decide to go, regardless. They immediately find comfort in Tehrans bustling bazaars, Isfahans dazzling mosques, and the powder filled slopes of the Alborz and Zagros mountain ranges, topping 3,000m. It is a culture not easily understood, but profoundly welcoming. As journalist Elaine Sciolino writes, Iran can be dazzling, and light-filled, a reflection of its complexities; but it can also be cold, confusing, and impenetrable. Yet they are reminded, as Pico Iyer writes, to learn more about the world than our newspapers will accommodate.
24	Milk and Honey	14	Food - Health	Yuma, Arizona is the land of plenty for nearly all the leafy vegetables Americans enjoy in the winter months. For the people who work the fields, the Colorado River represents not only their livelihood, but a deep, spiritual connection as well. Enjoy this beautiful glimpse into the area's Latino community and their humble connection to the strained Colorado River.
25	Mindful Vineyards	4	Food - Health	Amelia Ceja emigrated from Mexico when she was 12 years old to work in Napa Valley as a grape picker. The daughter of agricultural workers, Amelia met and befriended farmworker union founder Cesar Chavez as a child and honors his legacy today by operating a vineyard that prioritizes people and the planet. From farm-to-table she calls for justice in agriculture to protect some of the most vulnerable workers in the nation.
26	My Haggan Dream	8	Ocean Conservation - Wildlife	On the island of Saipan, a young girls mysterious dream about a haggan, or green sea turtle, leads her to investigate the sea turtles that live around her home. Join her adventure to find turtles, which leads to a wonderful birthday wish.
27	Namuli	24	Adventure With A Purpose - Land Preservation	This community-backed film highlights the spirit of exploration and what happens when a team of rock climbers, biologists, and conservationists set off on an unconventional expedition into one of the worlds least explored and most threatened habitats. Follow an international crew as they push the bounds of friendship, climbing conventions, and scientific research on the 2,000-foot granite face of Mozambiques second highest mountain, Mount Namuli.
28	One Hundred Thousand Beating Hearts	15	Food	Director Peter Bycks short film One Hundred Thousand Beating Hearts tells the story of fourth generation cattleman Will Harris evolution from industrial, commodity cowboy to sustainable, humane food producer, whilst breathing new life into a community left behind and forgotten due to, as Will says, the industrialization of agriculture.
29	Operation Moffat	20	Adventure With A Purpose - Women's Perspective	Take inspiration and wit from the colorful climbing life of Britains first female mountain guide, Gwen Moffat. Writer Claire Carter and filmmaker Jen Randall scramble, swim and barefoot climb through Gwens most cherished British landscapes, grappling with her preference for mountains over people, adventure over security, wilderness over tick lists. This is a film deeply rooted in a real love of wild places.
30	Our Wonderful Nature: The Common Chameleon	4	Animation - Wildlife	The feeding habits of the common chameleon as never seen before.
31	Pale Blue Dot	4		Set to the words of Carl Sagan, Pale Blue Dot situates human history against the tapestry of the cosmos through an eclectic combination of art styles woven seamlessly together through music and visuals, seeking to remind us that regardless of our differences, we are one species living on Earth.
32	Pangolin	13	Food - Wildlife	This is an intimate glimpse into the journey of a single pangolin; from the moment it is taken from the wild to its final destination in China. Filmed on location across three countries with the help of reformed poachers and wildlife enforcement officers, the film acts as a surrogate for an estimated hundred thousand pangolins that are poached and smuggled annually throughout Southeast Asia and Africa. This film seeks to inform a broad audience about pangolins and the illegal trade they are central to, in order to address the very real danger that pangolins might be extinct before much of the world ever knew they existed. Filmed with minimal commentary to be as immersive as possible, Pangolin offers audiences the opportunity experience the life, death and afterlife of the most illegally trafficked mammal on the planet.

33	Paul's Boots	37	Adventure With A Purpose	Lynns husband, Paul, passed away in July 2015. He left behind polished hiking boots and a backpack for his dream hike: the 2,189-mile Appalachian Trail. How good would it be, Lynn asked ,or his boots to make the journey even if Paul couldnt. Her plea launched an incredible journey. Pauls Boots follows the boots and the people who carried them.
34	Plastico	9	Ocean Conservation	Beach communities around the world suffer from an abundance of plastic that tragically ends up in the oceans at an alarming rate over 8 million metric tons per year. Join the founders of the Azulita Project, as they share information on how a small community is making a difference.
35	Red Wolf Revival	24	Wildlife	This is the story of the last remaining wild population of red wolves. Centered on the historic recovery effort in Eastern North Carolina, the film documents the multifaceted struggle to reintroduce one of the rarest animals on earth in the face of cultural, economic, and biological challenges in North Carolina.
36	Role Reversal - Tim and Emily Harrington Climbing in Spain	7	Adventure With A Purpose	Emily Harrington traveled to Spain with her dad, Tim, to mentor him while he attempts to tick his first 5.12 at age 60. Tim and Emily learn from each other and relive the glory days in this heartfelt family climbing epic.
37	Running Wild	7	Wildlife	In February of 2014, a remotely triggered camera in Utahs rugged Uinta mountains captured a picture of something no one thought possible in the area: a wolverine. This elusive creature hadnt been spotted here for nearly 40 years. This one photograph set in motion a massive undertaking to find out if these badasses of the animal kingdom were setting up shop here for good. Ultrarunners took to the mountains setting up and checking camera traps around the ecosystem in search of more photographic evidence. The result? A comprehensive survey of wildlife in the range and a model for citizen science projects everywhere.
38	Selah: Water from Stone	8	Land Preservation	Fifty Years ago David Bamberger devoted his life to restoring a neglected and overgrazed ranch in the Texas Hill Country. The result? Water from Stone. By restoring natural ecological functions, David filled hillside aquifers, brought springs back to life, created riparian habitat, and inspired a landscape movement.
39	Skyranch	9	Water/River	A childhood connected to nature and adventure leads a woman to the forefront of whitewater rafting. The river calls her to become its protector as she observes the destruction caused by miners during the California gold rush. Learn about Rories work with SYRCL to protect the waters that surround her home Skyranch.
40	The Accord	19	Adventure With A Purpose	The reality of growing up a surfer in Iceland is different from anywhere else in the world. Its a harsh place. There are no surf shops, guidebooks or webcams. But being so far removed from the hustle and bustle of the known surf world hardens Icelands surfers to confront the issue they all must face: the North Atlantic wind. Follow Hei-asson on his journey through Iceland searching for that rare, yet significant, compromise that brings both Icelandic surfers and the North Atlantic wind to the table.
41	The Elwha Undammed: What's a River For?	25	Indigenous Perspectives - Water/River - Wildlife	The Elwha River in Port Angeles, Washington is the stage for the largest dam removal in American history. A century ago, a businessman dammed the waters of the Klallam people where 100-pound salmon cast their shadows. Behind the dynamite and bulldozers that erased Thomas Aldwell's dream is a saga of competing ideas about the purpose and meaning of a river.
42	The Falconer	13	Food - Wildlife	Landon Moore is a falconer who combines a deep understanding of ecology and spirituality as he works with a team of falcons to rid organic orchards of pest birds. When one of his falcons is struck by a rattlesnake he must race across the state to meet his veterinarian wife in an attempt to save its life.
43	The Great Siberian Traverse	28	Adventure With A Purpose	Join a 6,000-mile ski journey through Russia, along the Trans-Siberian Railway. The documentary created in collaboration with POWDER and Sherpas Cinema showcases a fringe backcountry skiing community, deep Siberian powder, and skiings ancient origins. Team skiers Ingrid Backstrom, Callum Pettit, and Nick Martini share their insights along the adventure.
44	The High Divide	16	Land Preservation - Wildlife	They say The High Divide is the place where the world is cut in two. Then again, it may be where everything comes together. This place was once called the big empty. bursting at the seams with deep forests, streams brimming with trout, meadows flush with grizzlies and wildflowers, and peaks so wild and vast they stretch all the way to the horizon. Its also full of people. People who love the land. Cowboys who love salmon. Range riders who shepherd cattle and carnivores. Woodcutters who fight for forests. Generation after generation stewarding land and water. These are the lost voices of the American West. A new film celebrates the confluence of a wild place and its visionary people.
45	The Living Forest	5	Energy/Resources/Climate - Indigenous Perspectives	The Kichwa tribe in the Sarayaku region of the Amazon in Ecuador believe in the living forest, where humans, animals and plants live in harmony. They are fighting oil companies who want to exploit their ancestral land. A delegation of indigenous people are at the Paris COP21 climate conference to make sure their voices are heard. Can they win their battle?

46	The New Environmentalists - from Peru to Tanzania *Individual Segments Are Available/Listed Below	9	Activism	The New Environmentalists share a common goal safeguarding the Earth's natural resources from exploitation and pollution, while fighting for justice in their communities. The film is the latest in the Mill Valley Film Groups Emmy Award-winning series featuring inspiring portraits of six passionate and dedicated activists. These are true environmental heroes who have placed themselves squarely in harm's way to battle intimidating adversaries while building strong grassroots support. Destiny's Bay   United States Destiny Watford organized her classmates to prevent construction of the nation's largest incinerator in a Baltimore neighborhood less than one mile from their high school.
47	*The New Environmentalists: The Last Resort	28	Activism - Land Preservation	Be inspired by Luis Jorge Rivera Herrera; he led a successful campaign to establish a nature reserve in Puerto Rico's Northeast Ecological Corridor, a critical nesting ground for the endangered leatherback sea turtle and won the Goldman Environmental Prize for his work in 2016.
48	*The New Environmentalists: Destiny's Bay	8	Activism - Community Empowerment - Health	Destiny Watford organized her community to prevent construction of the nation's largest incinerator in a Baltimore neighborhood less than one mile from her high school and won the Goldman Environmental Prize for her work in 2016.

Her work was recognized in 2016 when she received the Goldman Environmental Prize. This short, narrated by Robert Redford, this film shows how an ordinary person can affect extraordinary change.
50	*The New Environmentalists: The Pastoralist	14	Activism - Community Empowerment - Land Preservation	Edward Loure organized his Maasai community to secure indigenous peoples' stewardship of over 200,000 acres of Tanzania's northern range lands and won the Goldman Environmental Prize for his work in 2016.
51	*The New Environmentalists: Under Cover	6	Activism - Land preservation	Leng Ouch risked his life when he went undercover to expose illegal logging and government corruption that was rampant in Cambodia. His work was recognized in 2016 when he received the Goldman Environmental Prize. This short, narrated by Robert Redford, this film shows how an ordinary person can affect extraordinary change.
52	The Refuge	2	Energy/Resources/Climate - Indigenous Perspectives	For hundreds of generations, the Gwich'in people of Alaska and northern Canada have depended on the caribou that migrate through the Arctic Refuge. With their traditional culture now threatened by oil extraction and climate change, two women are continuing a decades-long fight to protect their land and future.
53	The Secrets Held in the Ice	7	Animation - Energy/Resources/Climate	Follow the adventure of the pioneer glaciologist Claude Lorys who, in 1956, when he was still a young student, left to study Antarctica. This extreme life experience teaches him the principles of survival and solidarity, and reveals to him his vocation: Claude will be a glaciologist. Convinced that the Antarctic ices contain important information for the understanding of our planet's climatic history, he will continue his research without respite for three decades. Only then, does the ice reveal an unexpected message.
54	The Super Salmon	7	Water/River - Wildlife	Proponents of a plan to construct a $5.2-billion hydroelectric mega-dam on Alaska's Susitna River say it wouldn't affect the watershed's famous salmon runs because of its location upstream of where fish usually swim. Tell that to the Super Salmon.
55	The Wild President	5	Water/River - Wildlife	President Jimmy Carter, an unsung environmental hero, grew up in awe of nature's wonder. But it wasn't until he first paddled the Chattooga River's Bull Sluice did he understand the power of a wild river. In celebration of the 50th Anniversary of the Wild & Scenic Rivers Act, happening in 2018, President Carter urges all Americans to protect more wild rivers.
56	Things Find A Way	18	Energy/Resources/Climate - Water/River	The country is in the midst of an unprecedented gas drilling rush brought on by a controversial technology called hydraulic fracturing. It starts when oil and gas companies take good water, mix it up with not-so-good stuff and shoot it into the ground to force out the gas. And that's when things get really strange. Watch this video to learn how the more oil and gas companies frack, the more trouble is finding ways to happen.
57	Think Like a Scientist: Boundaries	13	Land Preservation - Wildlife	Humans construct boundaries around our homes, our neighborhoods, and our nations to bring order to a chaotic world. But we rarely consider how these boundaries affect other creatures. Meet conservation photographer Krista Schlyer, who has spent the last seven years documenting the environmental effects of the U.S./Mexico border wall, and biologist Jon Beckmann, who studies how man-made barriers influence the movement of wildlife. Schlyer and Beckmann have seen damaging impacts of the border wall firsthand, but they remain optimistic. Humans probably won't stop constructing walls and fences any time soon, but planning our boundaries with wildlife in mind can help prevent these structures from causing environmental harm.

58	Think Like a Scientist: Gorongosa	5	Community Empowerment - Land Preservation - Wildlife	This is the story of Greg Carr and his involvement in the restoration of Gorongosa National Park after its destruction from 30 years of war in Mozambique. The film also features Princeton biologist Rob Pringle, who does research in the park.
59	Waghoba - Provider, Destroyer, Deity	28	Wildlife	Indian forests, culture, religion and mythology have long been dominated by the tiger. The tiger plays the dual role of giver and destroyer across the Indian landscape, kindling a spectrum of emotions. Malaika travels to the heart of her country to uncover this relationship, all the while in the search of a mysterious, elusive male tiger. In her quest for this tiger, she unravels the stark contrast in human emotion towards the tiger, in one of India's newest tiger reserves. This film is a journey through a time when man and tiger coexist together in the same terrain like never before.
60	Wasfia	7	Adventure With A Purpose - Women's Perspective	National Geographic Emerging Explorer and Adventurer of the Year Wasfia Nazreen doesn't just climb for the thrill; she climbs for a cause. The first Bangladeshi to scale the Seven Summits, Wasfia has made it her purpose to brave these climbs for the sake of something larger for the women of Bangladesh. Lyrical and poetic, this short documentary, shot entirely on iPhone 6S, is a reflective character portrait that takes us from the depths of Wasfia's struggles to the highest peaks on the planet, as we explore what it means to pursue the unknown.
61	Wild New Brave	6	Adventure With A Purpose	America, 1970. The American Dream is dead at least to outcasts who rather create a world where the ultimate self-expression was a climb to nowhere. Up was down, poor was rich, and what everyone else found meaningless was worth dying for. With never-before-seen 16mm archival footage of their daring antics and vagabond lifestyles, as well as campfire interviews with John Bachar, Henry Barber, Lynn Hill and more, they form a Utopia out of risk and innocence.
62	Writing on Stone		Indigenous Perspectives	This short film presents a portrait of Treffrey Deerfoot a venerated elder in the Siksika Tribe in Alberta, Canada, and explores his efforts through ceremonial dance, sacred singing, and traditional storytelling to keep this proud heritage alive for his people today.
63	Yellowstone's Northern Range		Wildlife	The Northern Range is the hub of wildlife in Yellowstone National Park. Occupying just 10 percent of the park, it is winter range for the largest elk herd in Yellowstone and is arguably the most carnivore-rich area in North America. Early predator removal changed the ecosystem and restoration of carnivores has had significant and unexpected impacts on the habitat.
